The Michael Syddall CofE VA Primary School

SEND Information Report

February 2023 Agreed by governors: March 2023

Review date: March 2024

Code of Practice 6.79

'The governing body of The Michael Syddall C of E VA Primary School have a legal duty to publish information on their websites about the implementation of the governing body's policy for pupils with SEN. The information published will be updated annually and any changes to the information occurring during the year must be updated as soon as possible.

The North Yorkshire local offer can be found at: http://www.northyorks.gov.uk/article/23542/SEND---local-offer

The Michael Syddall CofE VA Primar	y School SEND information report
January	2023
This is what we provide in our school	This is North Yorkshire LA'sminimum expectations of good practice 1 What kinds of SEN are provided for in your school?
We welcome all children to our school regardless of their needs. We will use our best endeavours to meet the needs of children with SEND. All needs are catered for in order to provide an inclusive education for all. At The Michael Syddall CE Primary School our aim is to inspire and challenge our pupils to achieve their best and achieve their full potential.	Children and young people (CYP) with a wide range of SEN are welcomed into the school. If a parent of a pupil with an EHCP requests a place at the school, the CYP is welcomed and strategies sought to meet needs.
2 What policies do you have for identifying children and young people with SEN?F contact them?	low do you assess their needs? What is the SENCo's name and how can I
We pride ourselves on our 'open door' policy. Parents and carers are encouraged to speak with their child's class teacher about any concerns they may have. They will be able to discuss any support your child is receiving. If you wish to discuss your child's needs further please contact the Headteacher/SENDCo Mrs Alison McHarg Tel: 01748 818485 Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) is a legal term. It describes the needs of a child who has a difficulty or disability which makes learning harder for them than other children of their age.Children are assessed regularly to ensure that they are making the expected progress. The class teacher is usually the first person to notice that the child needs extra help. If this is the case then they will ask for a meeting with the SENDCo to discuss strategies. If these strategies are not working and the gap is becoming significantly wider than their peers in any area	The name and contact number of the SENCo should be readily available for parents. Where the school feels that something additional or different is needed to support your child because they have SEND they will discuss this carefully with you. This information may well be recorded in a document for you and your child, known as an individual provision map or an individual education plan. This should include:- • details of any strategies being used to support your child in class; • details of any extra support or interventions for your child • your child's learning targets and their long term desired outcomes • the next date when your child's progress will be reviewed. Most pupils will benefit from SEN support, but some pupils who need high levels of support, or who have complex needs will need to be referred for an then a discussion with parents/carers about the possibility of putting the child on the SEND register will take place. Once a discussion has taken place, a final decision will be made by parents/carers, the class teacher and the SENDCo regarding the next appropriate steps. The class teacher and SENDCo will follow the Graduated Approach as outlined in the new Code of Practice: "Assess, Plan, Do, Review." An Individual provision map (IPM) will be written with specific targets and strategies to help your child make progress. There will be meetings to discuss the progress of the targets. This will be arranged by the class teacher. Sometimes children may not make progress despite	education, health and care plan.

receiving additional support in school and from external agencies. In consultation with parents and other agencies, the school may decide to request additional support to help meet a child's additional needs. A request for an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) may be made if parents and professionals supporting a child feel that the young person's needs cannot be provided from within the resources normally available to mainstream schools. An EHCP assessment will not always lead to an EHCP
3 What arrangements do you have for consulting with parents of children with SEI	N and involving them in their child's education?
Regular contact with parents is vital for our children with SEND. All staff listen to	Schools communicate regularly with parents, usually once a term, to discuss what parents have to say and respond to and act upon any concerns they may	how well their child is doing. They listen to what parents have to say and have. The school communicates with parents regularly throughout the year	respond to it. For pupils with SEND it is often desirable that there is more through:	frequent communication as it is vital that parents and school work together
Parents evening two times a year	closely. Your knowledge and understanding of your child's needs is essential
• Meetings with parents to discuss IPM targets/Review meetings with parents	to support the school in making the best provision for them. This should also Informal meetings/discussions with parents/carers	take account of your and your child's hopes, personal goals and interests.
Meetings at request of parents	This will allow the school to regularly explain to you where your child is in their learning, and to work with you to ensure the most appropriate targets
For some children, regular communication takes place on a daily basis through the	are set to ensure progress.
use of a home/school book or contact with the class teacher before or after	On-going communication with school may include:
school. In addition to this we will give information to parents about how to	• regular contact through a home-school book or by e-mail to keep you support their child at home.	informed of things that are going well or particular successes Pupils and parents are informed of the service provided by SENDIASS .	• more regular meetings to update you on your child's progress and whether http://m.northyorks.gov.uk/CHttpHandler.ashx?id=29849&p=0	th e support is working
The team of SENDIASS co-ordinators are qualified and experienced in special	 clear information about the impact of any interventions educational needs, and are based at the locations across the county - 🔁 for	 guidance for you to support your child's learning at home.
details, please see the SENDIASS contact information [10kb].
4. What arrangements do you have in place in your school to consult with young p	eople with SEN and how do you involve them in their education?
The children are consulted in a variety of ways to gain pupil voice. We ask all	School will obtain the views of all children (pupil voice) to shape provision in children for their views on topics they have done in class and after school clubs.	school. Your child's school may have a school council. In addition, it is vital Various other things to do with school life are discussed through school and class	that the views and aspirations of children and young people with SEN are councils and circle time activities.	listened to and they are supported to achieve their aspirations as far as
All pupils with SEND are included in discussions about their learning and target	possible. You school will be able to describe how this is undertaken and the setting (where appropriate). Their views will be heard and this is a good	frequency with which the child is consulted.
opportunity for them to discuss things that help them in school as well as things	inequency with which the child is consulted.
that might not help. Their views are recorded on the IPMs. Reviews of IPMs follow a pupil centred format.

5. What arrangements are in place for assessing and reviewing children and young people's progress towards outcomes. Please can you explain what opportunities are available to enable you to work with parents and young people as part of this assessment and review All children should make the expected progress in a year. Some children may need	All pupils with SEND should make at least expected progress, in line with additional and different support in order to achieve this. Even with additional	their peers. Your school will be able to explain how it will be monitoring your support some children may not fully meet these expectations but will still make	child's progress to ensure that it is at least in line with expectations. This will progress. They are assessed regularly throughout the year in order to monitor the	usually include progress made with personal targets, and overall progress on progress that they are making according to their individual starting points.	the National Curriculum.
	Many schools use inclusion passports. This is a document that summarises Monitoring of progress towards identified outcomes will be undertaken by all the	the support that has been given to a pupil over a period of time, and the adults involved with the provision. Progress will be reviewed on an on-going basis	difference that this support has made. You may like to ask your child's school and records/notes kept in the class SEN folders on Individual Provision Maps	whether an inclusion passport would be useful for you and your child. Your (IPMs) and by the end of Summer term 2016, Inclusion Passports. IPMs and	child may well have their own version which they can share with staff and Inclusion Passports are used to communicate the provision and progress of	which can help to explain their interests and things that help them learn and children with SEND when accessing support from external services or when a child	to enjoy school. is going through a period of transition from or to another school. IPMs are used to highlight targets and areas for development and outline strategies that will be used to help.For pupils with an IPM, a pupil centred review will be held with parents at least termly. In order to gain a full picture of the child we encourage parents to share achievements outside of school and for the child to share what they enjoy about school and what they think they're good at.
6. What are the arrangements for supporting children and young people in moving ensure that as young people prepare for adulthood the desirable outcomes reflect	their ambitions, which could include higher education, employment, independent living and participation in society
Transition is very well planned for all children. We hold a meeting with the	Your SENCo should arrange an appropriate transition review in plenty of time Secondary schools in the area to discuss individual children and their needs. There	before any move. Staff from the receiving school should be invited to attend.
is also a document called the inclusion passport that is passed on to the next	Transition meetings and visits should be arranged for the pupil or student, school. This documents all the interventions that have happened in primary school	oft en ac companied by a well-known member of staff. The pupil should along with other information such as interests, levels and recent achievements.	receive as much transition work as they feel necessary.
Children with SEND will also have extra visits to their new setting in order for them to become familiar with the routines of the day. Once the secondary school place has been confirmed then a meeting will be set up with parents, the current school SENDCo and the SENDCo from the secondary school to discuss how the transition for the child will take place to ensure a smooth and relaxed change occurs.
7. What is you School's approach to teaching children and young people with SEN?
All staff at Michael Syddall are committed to providing quality first teaching so	High quality support for learning within mainstream lessons is the most that all children can make good progress with their learning. Lessons are	important factor in helping pupils with SEND to make good progress differentiated to meet the needs of all children and are delivered by the class	alongside their peers. There may be occasions when the school feels that teacher in an ordinary classroom setting. Specific strategies (which may be	some additional support within lessons may help your child to make better suggested by the SENDCo or outside staff) are in place to help your child learn.	progress. This is by no means always the case. However, if some additional

The class teacher will carefully check your child's progress and if he/she feels that	small group or one to one support within lessons is planned, the school will there are gaps in their understanding/learning extra support will be provided to	explain how this will work, what the aims of this support will be and how and help them make the best possible progress. All children are entitled to this as a	when the impact of this support will be reviewed. Most importantly, this part of excellent classroom practice.	support should be aiming to make your child more independent in lessons
We offer a wide variety of evidence based interventions to support the needs of	Schools use a range of evidence based interventions to support pupils with all children. Interventions are carefully monitored in order to ensure that they	SEND to make better progress. Interventions are structured learning have an impact on children's learning.	programmes. Your school will be able to explain to you:
Intervention includes and is highly effective when trained staff intervene in the	 what interventions your child is receiving and what are the intended moment, during the lesson and follow up before/after a lesson.	learning outcomes;
Staff receive regular training and support provided by a number of different	 when during the week any interventions will be delivered and for how agencies.	many weeks;
All interventions are recorded as part of a teachers planning and are discussed in	 who will be delivering the interventions (usually a well trained teaching progress meetings with the Headteacher.	assistant) and where (e.g. in class or outside the classroom) how the interventions will relate to and support learning in the classroom;
These Intervention records outline the purpose of the intervention and an	 how they will be monitored closely to make sure they are helping your child evaluation of the intervention to ensure that the impact is clear and the next steps	to make accelerated progress. can be easily identified.
8. What sort of adaptations are made to the curriculum and the learning environm	ent of children and young people with SEN?
We believe that all teachers are teachers of SEND. We will make effective changes	Your school will be able to describe some of the approaches that classroom to our broad and balanced curriculum and learning environment to ensure that all	teachers and other staff will be using throughout the day to help address children are able to achieve their full potential. All staff have high expectations of	your child's needs within lessons. They may also be able to share with you all children and will put relevant adaptations in place to ensure they achieve this.	the school's overall plan of support (provision map), which outlines many of Further adaptions could be necessary for more specific needs such as partially	t hese st rategie s.
sighted children, children with mobility issues and hearing impaired children.	Some children with a high level of need will also need a care plan or a health
These are specific to individual children and will be addressed accordingly.	care plan which may include a risk assessment.
Risk assessments are in place for children who require them.
9. What sort of expertise for supporting children and young people with SEN do yo	ou currently have in school? How do you ensure that the expertise and training of staff to support children and young people with SEN is current?How do	you access and secure further specialist expertise?
Staff who deliver focused interventions such as Little Wandle phonics Catch	All staff should receive regular training to enable them to meet a range of
Up/Keep Up intervention have all had the necessary training.	SEN. Teachers and teaching assistants should have regular generic training and specific training to meet individual needs as necessary.
As a whole school, we have refresher training for all the different areas of need.	Schools must make good use of their SEN funding to meet a range of need.

This academic year Behaviour, Speech and Language have been delivered and during the Spring Term all teaching assistants will receive Maths training to enable them to support during the lesson. All our staff are highly trained and they are observed delivering the interventions. In doing this we can ensure that all the staff are consistent in their approach. Any staff who feel they need more training in a specific area have the opportunity to attend relevant training sessions. Our SENDCo attends County and Swaledale Alliance Network meetings and liaises with other SENDCos in the area regularly. In addition to this we have highly qualified staff working in the NYCC Hub, that deliver and work alongside our staff particularly for individual interventions.	However, if a pupil has particular needs and the school has exhausted its repertoire, specialist support should be sought promptly.
10. How do you evaluate the effectiveness of the provision made for children and	young people with SEN?
Progress of children with SEND is monitored through pupil progress meetings, analysis of the data, teacher reports on progress of SEND pupils and intervention records. My Provision Map(s) are kept for all children with SEND. These are reviewed every term to ensure that the provision is having an impact. Quality first teaching will be evaluated through SLT/SENCo monitoring. Provision for SEND is constantly evaluated for effectiveness.	The progress and attainment of all children is carefully monitored and reported to parents. Your school will be able to explain how they track pupil progress in their school. If a child is provided with additional and different provision/interventions, the school will carefully monitor the impact by a variety of methods; such as: measuring how the intervention accelerated progress over a given time – known as a ratio gain or the before and after impact on self-confidence, behaviour etc. During the planning meeting with parents and where possible the child or young person, the teacher will explain what the expected impact will be by the time the intervention is reviewed and how this will be measured. Many schools use Individual Provision Maps (IPMs) to capture this information, which is written during your meeting. This meeting with you and your child is often described as a 'learning conversation'. The school will evaluate the impact of all interventions and whether they have a strong evidence base of effectiveness. Other provision, for example provision regularly used in-class (known as Quality First Teaching), will be evaluated regularly by the Senior Leadership Team. Your school will be able to describe how this is undertaken.
11. How are children and young people with SEN enabled to engage in activities av
All of our children with SEND have the same opportunities as everybody else in school. Provision is made for all children to take part in extracurricular activities, trips, school productions and sporting events. We pride ourselves with the provision we make to ensure children with SEND can take part in everything we have to offer.	The school's policies should all state how all pupils are actively included in a wide range of curriculum and extra-curricular activities, including school trips. Pupils with SEN should be equally represented in positions of responsibility e.g. the school council.

Children with SEND have positions of responsibility in school such as School council, House captains, Vice-captains, Playground leaders and buddies. In their own class, children have opportunitie s to be class monitors to help with the day to day running of an effective and caring classroom.
12. How do you support children and young people with SEN to improve their emo	ptional and social development?Please explain theextra pastoral support arrangements for listening to the views of children and young people with SEN and	d measures to prevent bullying.
At The Michael Syddall School we support children emotionally in a variety of	Some of the interventions implemented should be for emotional support e.g.
ways. All children participate in PSHE lessons and circle time activities, as well as	SEAL nurture groups, the provision of a key worker.
class/whole school assemblies which tackle issues such as relationships, bullying etc. On occasions, children may need additional emotional well-being support and all teachers feel confident to provide a more personalised strategy. Our children all have the opportunity to share their feelings with a member of staff that they feel comfortable with.
Our school is also fortunate enough to have a pastoral wellbeing mentor, she works with individuals and whole classes.
Our Christian ethos is evident in all that we do at The Michael Syddall CofE VA School.Pupils are recognised as individuals, they need to be listened to, feel included and we have the responsibility to ensure their personal well being and learning needs are met fully to allow them to achieve the very best they can. This is reflected in our Mission Statement: Michael Syddall CofE Aided School is a learning community within which everyone can flourish and children are equipped to step into their future with hope, courage and perseverance. Our community is built upon the values of respect, kindness, trust, forgiveness and friendship. Inspired by the Christian Faith, we encourage everyone to embrace life in all its fullness.
13. How does the School involve other bodies, including health and social care bod	lies, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations, in meeting children and young people's SEN and supporting their families?
The school has access to a wide range of professionals and outside agencies The	The Local Authority offers a range of specialist support and outreach services,
Local Authority offers a range of specialist support and outreach that we can	including educational psychologists and local enhanced mainstream schools, contact for further support and advice. If we feel that outside agency input would	to help schools to deliver appropriate support and interventions, Other benefit your child then we will have a meeting in school to discuss this with you.	specialists such as speech and language therapists can also support schools in Parental permission is always sought before involving anyone from outside of	this. If the school feels that the involvement of another agency will help them school.	to meet your child's needs you will be informed and asked to give your
We have access to:	consent.
• Speech and language therapists Educational Psychologists
	1

•	NYCC Hubs – SEMH, C&I, C&L, SENSORT/MEDICAL
•	SENDIASS
•	Specialist teachers for hearing and visually impaired children
•	Early Help
•	Social care
14	14. What are the arrangements for handling complaints from parents of children with SEN about the provision made at the school.
lf y	you are not satisfied with the provision made for your child in school regarding	There must be a designated governor for SEN in the school and complaints
SEI	ND your first point of contact should be the class teacher or SENDCo. Explain	about SEN should follow the general complaints procedure. It is always best yo	ur worries or concerns to them first. If you are not satisfied that your concern	to approach the teacher or the Headteacher first, to see if your concerns can has	s been addressed, speak to the Head Teacher and ask for a School Governor	be immediately addressed. If you still feel that your view has not been rep	presentative who is also the Chair of Governors, this is Mr Robert Knowles.	listened to or answered to your satisfaction you can make a formal complaint ally, if you do not feel that the issues have been resolved then you will need to	by writing to the chair of governors at the school.
fol	low our formal complaints procedure as outlined in the Complaints procedure ро	licy.

